

1. Title of the Project	Improving Livelihood of subsistence Farmer in Kampot (ILFARM-KP)
2. Project Purpose	Reduced poverty among small farmers and their enhanced standing in Cambodian society through the development of farmer led and self-sustained agricultural extension, marketing and community finance services
3. Project Term	From April 2007 to March 2010
4. Target Area	The project is implemented in 132 villages, 41 communes, 7 districts of Kampot province.
5. Target Group	Subsistence farmer, underrepresented group (young people, woman and vulnerable family).
6. Donor	Asian Community Trust (ACT)
7. Main Activities, Expected Output, and Indicators	(Activities) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Quarterly monitoring meeting and training of farmer promoters</li> <li>• Farmer promoter organize general meeting in their own villages and neighboring village</li> <li>• Training and meeting of representative of farmer promoter associations</li> <li>• Intensive training of representative of village based association</li> <li>• Capacity building to the representative of commune development networks</li> <li>• Workshop to establish producer group federation, rice mill, input providers and community shop and training to representatives of federation</li> <li>• Organizing training, exchange and advisory support for farmer representatives of organic rice producer groups</li> <li>• Organizing training, exchange, and advisory support for farmer representatives of community shop</li> <li>• Organizing monitoring training for the representatives of the chicken and vegetable producer groups</li> </ul> (Output) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Network of agricultural extension has been strengthened and food production in target area has improved;</li> <li>• Self-managed and self-financed village-based farmer associations network in Kampot has supported to establish;</li> <li>• The existing community business has further developed their capacity in terms of marketing and management. And the interested new groups will be supported to establish and the farmers will become the agri-entrepreneur, and input providers.</li> </ul> (Indicators) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• # increased number of subsistence farmer families being able to produce sufficient rice and nutrition to the basic consumption needs</li> <li>• # increased family income</li> <li>• # increased participation of the community in decision-making process</li> </ul>

	for community development <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• # reduced level of indebt ness</li> <li>• # increased sustainability of natural resource</li> <li>• # improved quality of living of rural women in the whole society</li> </ul>
8. Input	1 Part-time project advisor  1 Project officer  7 Community based filed assistants