

Dong Tung Rice Agriculture Development Community Assembly

On 8th June 2009, the community supported by CEDAC in the framework of CSPM project, organized an assembly to form Dong Tung Rice Agriculture development community at Trabieung Ressey village, Domnak sokrom commune, Dong Tung district, Kampot province. 57 people including farmers, the director of department of agricultural extension, director of provincial department of agriculture and CEDAC president, participated in this assembly. The objectives of the assembly were to:

- Discuss and make decisions on the internal rules and regulations of the community
- Elect board of directors and auditing committee people
- Register community into Agriculture Development Community and to collect membership fees

As a result, the assembly has selected a name: Dong Tung Rice Agriculture Development Community and has decide to select Trabieung Ressey village, Domnak sokrom commune, Dong Tung district, Kampot province as the location of this community. Moreover, the assembly has also elected members as the Board of Directors (BOA) and auditing committees.

It is important to note, that the main objective of this Agriculture Development Community was to help with management and leadership work on the activities of rice production, trading, selling and buying, credit provision , training services and the dissemination of agricultural techniques in order to increase family incomes, competitiveness and the protection of local products in a just and transparent manner.

